

Wood biomass

We offer wood chips suitable for stoves using biomass. We are aware that achieving high temperatures of these ovens can be a problem due to the poor quality of the wood chips, too high humidity or other factors. Upon your request we supply you with entirely beech or beech tree chips which provide the highest quality. This will enable reaching high temperatures in the ovens using biomass without any problems. We perform as well the service of chopping wood biomass using tractor woodchopper.

